MICHELE PACCIONE TO OFFER HOMEOWNER, JOB RETENTION SOLUTIONS AT TONIGHT'S CITY CANIDATE LOCKMAR FORUM

Michele Paccione: Keeping you in your home.

Palm Bay, FL – October 13, 2008 – Energized by her successful forum on the 29th and by the Palm Bay Professional Firefighter's endorsement, City Council seat 3 candidate Michele Paccione is geared up for tonight's Lockmar forum. This time, citizens will ask direct questions on the city's budget and organization. Paccione says she's excited about this opportunity to discuss solutions with her neighbors—especially on how to help keep them in their homes.

"I want people to know that this campaign and election is not about me, it's about them", she says. "I do not want to be a politician. I want to be the community's independent voice."

It is expected that voters will ask the most critical questions on their minds. Paccione, a Palm Bay real estate veteran, looks forward to answering questions on topics such as how she would educate homeowners on foreclosures, including options that help keep people in their homes.

She has answers on keeping jobs and attracting new businesses. She knows how to protect our precious Florida ecosystem while fostering sustainable growth—through common sense management. And when it comes to empowering Palm Bay's future, she has the plan we need to mentor youth through internships.

The Meet the Candidates Lockmar Forum is on Monday, October 13th at 7pm. It will be held at the Greater Palm Bay Senior Center, at 1275 Culver Drive N.E. in Palm Bay.
