

Successful investor event presentation

Clients Timothy Kounadis and Susan Wallace needed an eye-catching visual presentation to display at a high-profile IBM investor event. Erich Clementi, Senior Vice President of Global Technology Services, planned to run the presentation in the background as he gave an anticipated annual speech to the investors at a conference on stage. In addition, Tim and Susan needed a narrated version of the presentation that consumers could access as a post-event marketing asset.

The project was on a tight schedule, and the results had to be exceptional. So Tim and Susan turned to Rick Nelson, Dan Roberge, Holly Anagnos, Blake Goulette and Amanda Mullis for help.

The team created the graphics and the Flash presentation and wrote the narration script, all within the project deadlines. The clients were happy with the results: "I wanted to thank you for the hard work getting me ready for the Analyst day," Erich wrote about the work done by his and Rick Nelson's teams, "We had a coherent story and a compelling demo. I can only imagine how much time and effort you have put into it." Tim was also pleased by both deliverables and said, "Kudos from Erich for the demo and overall effort. Thank you all for your focus and drive!"

Congratulations to everyone who worked on this project. This is great customer feedback from a Senior Vice President, and you've all demonstrated outstanding teamwork!